Knowledge will ever govern ignorance, and a people who mean to be their own governors must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives.

—Madison.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1928, dedicate this tenth volume of the Aeolian to the great harp of life, from whose strings many echoes of folly, pathos, labor, wit, and wisdom have resounded during the past four years. These echoes, having been collected and assembled in a tangible and harmonious form, will long be an inspiration to all of us.

May the soft whispers of this harp continue to guide and urge us on to success and to greater goals after our school life is over, and cause us to press ever onward to the things that will bring honor to our Alma Mater, G. H. S.

I'm just a tiny tot, scarcely seven months old, yet I know all of you, for my Daddy has told me about you and G. H. S. First I'd better introduce myself for perhaps some of you don't know I'm Georgia Mae Willennar. Each morning at eight o'clock just when I am wide awake and ready for play, my Daddy has to go away. He always says it won't be long but it's always half a day. Then when he comes home he has to make up for lost time. You should see some of the antics I have him perform for me; you know—I think my Daddy would make a great comedian, and I wish he would entertain you sometime like he does me. He rules you with his powerful commands. I make him obey me—so after all is said and done I'm the ruling queen of G. H. S.

Georgia Mae Willennar '45.

Foreword

The Aeolian is a lyre from whose strings echo memories of bygone days. May this book resound with pleasant thoughts of classmates and teachers, of goals won, of enterprises launched, of friendly contacts with other schools, and of the loyal patriotism shown by the entire community. May it long be a source of enjoyment and pleasant reflections of school life in dear old G. H. S.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of School Trustees is the legislative authority which determines the policies of the school, adopts a budget guiding the expenditures of money, levies the taxes to provide the needed money, employs the teachers, principals, and superintendent for the schools. Hence, it is the Board that makes possible a progressive school system in harmony with the best ideas of the day; it is the Board that by its fair and square dealings, by its refusal to be influenced by personal or political motives, places the interests of the children of the community above all other interests.

Without commensurate financial return the Board gives of valuable time taken from private business demands and in a spirit of service meets the criticisms of those who pass judgment on their policies without knowing their problems and actuating motives. They, too, must meet the criticisms of special interests and those with personal grudges who are unable to sway the Board from what it decides is for the welfare of the child and community. Such is our Board and as such we pay it tribute.

Our Faculty

When I think of our Faculty, those noble words of Longfellow's come to my mind—"Toiling, rejoicing, sorrowing." These words are a true description of the daily routine of those who have labored with us these four short years of high school life. They have encouraged and helped when the task seemed impossible, and they have always rejoiced in our victories and successes. Sometimes we, unknowingly, bring sorrow to our dearest friends and it is by no means difficult to believe that our thoughtlessness has caused those who have worked with us and for us some sorrow and distress.

To you, mighty monarchs who reign within the walls of Garrett High, and who have given us the knowledge of life which we so crave, and to you who have played so great a part in shaping our lives we have an unexcelled admiration and we dedicate to you a hallowed sanctuary in our hearts.

So Faculty, dear Faculty,
  Four years have come, four years have gone
But thoughts of you will hold you dear
  Till we shall meet in after years.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

I remember, I remember
When we entered G. H. S.
How our eager eyes were focused
On the goal we call "Success."
A long, long time before us,
We thought four years ago;
And yet each moment counted
To gain a step or so.

I remember, I remember
How fast the first three years
Flew by in ecstacy and joy,
O'erwhelming all our fears.
We fought the fight courageously
To honor G. H. S.
The greater things that we have done
We hope outweighs the loss.

I remember, I remember,
The glories of this year
We've played the game both fair and square
Now—"Graduation's" near;
We know our aim to leave behind
A record clear and clean
By each of us is realized
By others plainly seen.

Manfred Karr '28.

CLASS PROPHECY

This is station G. H. S. announcing. We have been asked to present, this evening, a program using the members of the Class of '28 in commemoration of their tenth anniversary of graduation from Garrett High School. If you have any suggestions, just send them in. First on the program, we shall have a song by the well-known chorus girls—Mary McKinley, Daphene Burns, Hazel Harvey, Alzien Green, and Mildred Alley, who is the director.

Now that we have given you a jolly starter, you will want something more serious, and so we have with us Russell Alford, Winford Nessel, and Kenneth Sheets who will debate on the subject, "Farm Relief." Next we shall have a lecture by James McDermott, who is representing the Royal Order of the Janitors.

Just a moment, folks,—we have a few telegrams here—

"If Dorothy Lewellyn is present, have her sing for us 'I Wish I Were Single Again.' "

Signed, Bud and Rosella.

"Am posing for collar ads. Sorry I can't be with you."

Signed, Harold Treesh.

We just received a telephone call from Harry Tuck and Wilbur Eldridge asking us to announce that they are opening their new beauty parlor on East High Street. I'm sure that we all wish them success.

Miss Ruth Grimm will now entertain you with a pipe organ solo. She has just returned from Europe where she has been studying music for the last five years.

Florence Strouse and Irma Young are here representing Mme. Mary Dauber's latest styles from Paris. They wish to say a few words to you concerning their hobby, clothes.

Howard Watts, an errand boy for Mr. Hurley of the "Hoosier Store," desires us to announce that they have just received a new shipment of eggs from the Ober-Lung Company.

Well, fans, here is another telegram—all the way from the Zulu Islands—sent by A-A-Arthur Hopkins and Karl Kennedy. They say they are very lonesome and would like to hear from Barbara Dirr and Ethel Higgins. Do your best, girls.

We will now go on with the program. Manzella Herzer will talk to us on "How to Gain Weight." She and her companion, Beatrice Frazier, are living examples of the truth of her theory. This will be followed by a short talk, "How to Keep Your Job," by Evelyn DeWitt, private secretary to Z. A. Willennar.

Word has just been received that Finley Nash will not appear on the program this evening as he has a very difficult case on his books. He states that, Roger Carper and Kermit Farrington have been arrested for disturbing the peace, and are sadly in need of his assistance.

Well, well, and here's a request from Marion Elson, asking for "I Want My Sailor Boy." We'll see that you get him.

Donald Traster and Bill Byanski have signed up with the National League and send their regrets that they cannot be with us tonight. And now comes the money question—Miss Eleanor Brown will give us a few pointers on the new banking system that she is introducing in America.

The program will close by a farewell song by the world famous quartette Katherine McCully, Jeanette Foley, Katherine Owens, and Leota Biser.

This completes the program for this evening—wait—just a minute—here is a telegram from Myrtle Dickson and Helen Cramer, nurses on the hospital ship, "Hopeless," wishing you all good luck. I wish you all good luck, too, and hope all the fans enjoyed the evening's program.

Ruth Zimmerman '29.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the distinguished personages of the Senior Class of '28, in the year of Greatness and Superiority, feeling that much loss would be caused if the act were not performed, and mainly because we are unable to take everything with us on our journey, do hereby make this will, granting some things and not granting others to the remaining personages of Garrett High School.

To the School Board we will our appreciation for this season's improvements and the new gym.

To the members of the Faculty we will all the remarks and statements which were said by their most pleasing voices and which passed through our minds and out again as wind passes through an open building; those things we will to be said, that others might profit by the knowledge of them since we did not.

To the Junior Class we grant the use of the unoccupied seats left by us, for one year only; also our dignified poise and divine inspiration.

The personal belongings of certain members of the distinguished class are willed to the following:

to John Philip, the tall, manly stature of Kenneth Sheets;

to Ned Walters, the red hair of Kermit Farrington;

to Lowell Peck, the attempt to grow a mustache as Harry Tuck tried to accomplish;

to Roy Stahl, Roger Carper's way with the women;

to Orval Wise, Mutt Alley's ability as yell leader, "Atta ole goin' gang;"

to Blanche Holmes, Alzein Green's baby talk;

to Mildred Lantz, Kate McCully's innocent look;

to John Elam, Winford Nessel's "woman hating" power;

to Robert Hinklin, Wilbur Eldridge's ability to fall asleep in classes;

to Dorothy Shaffer, Mary McKinley's dimples;

to Richard Woodcox, the "Palmolive Complexion" of Harold Treesh;

to Bernard Brennan, the Irish jokes of James McDermott;

the undying love of Lois Withrow to Mary Mies;

Walter Lung's bashfulness to Harry Goodson;

Howard Watt's brute strength to Harry Cramer;

Katherine Kirkpatrick's advice "How to Grow Thin" to Thelma Pence; to Clarence Brookmyer, the perfect behavior of Everet Cramer;

to whomever is duly appreciative, the priceless drawings that decorate every page of Arthur Hopkins' books.

to Thais Hamilton, Dorothy Lewellyn's position as editor-in-chief of the Aeolian; to Iolene Friend, Barbara Dirr's iron jaws so Iolene can chew gum as well as Barbara did;

unto Bob West, Mary Dauber's quiet ways;

to Ruth Cripe, the typing ability of Violet Murphy;

to Mary Simon, the smile of Irma Young;

Hazel Harvey's giggle to Dorothy Metcalf;

to Maxine Teagarden, Leota Biser's youthful shape;

to Kate Cogley; Florence Strouse's stature;

Ruth Grimm's dainty feet and graceful walk to Laural West;

Forest Ober's ability to get mixed up to James Workman;

the A's of Finley Nash to Kenneth Pickering;

Si Hurley's cheery "Hi" and manly stride to John Denes;

Bill Byanski's ability to play foot-ball to Fred Bergstedt;

to Jerome McCully, Richard Dolan's place in the orchestra;

Flora Duerk's skill in writing poetry, to Dora Alice Dean, if she will promise not to write it for the other students of the English classes;

to anyone, Daphene Burns' Ice Man;

to Reba Smith, Manzella Herzer's method of winning the country lads;

to Laura Alford, Jeanette Foley's basket-shooting ability;

to Rutherford Kirkpatrick, the chance to go to Chicago to see the big shows;

to Louise Mowry, Helen Cramer's book on, "How to Get Your Man."

Don't know if we've forgotten anyone in the rush or not; but please don't feel cheated if we did, maybe you're glad you haven't any pecularities to be given away.

FROM SAP TO SENIOR

Four years ago a mob of Freshmen invaded the place. It will astonish the readers to know that they disbelieved in both Santa Claus and Fairy Tales. They were a sophisticated group, and it was rumored, that many began shaving. Several whiskers made their debut and those less successful in the cultivation of brush consoled themselves in saying that Mohammed was forty-five before the adherents of the Koran began swearing by the beard of the prophet. Were these Freshmen of the modest and retiring nature that befitted their years? Emphatically, NO! They would make things hum. But:

"The Sophomores jeer, the Juniors sneer
The Seniors, alas, don't know they're near!"

The expressions on the faces of the upper-classmen, to misquote someone or other, seemed to ask, "We sometimes wonder, will they ever be men?"

And so, the months rolled by, they became Sophomores, and, in turn, equally disdainful of the Freshmen. New wise cracks were originated and circulated, romances were begun, and in many cases, terminated; the Sophomores became Juniors —then Seniors. They began to feel aged and fostered plans of remaking the cosmos; not a few, after careful consideration, decided to become President of the United States.

Some of the former Freshmen had, like the miscalculating aviator, fallen out. A few ended their scholastic career even more abruptly, while many finished in a courtious and certified manner.

Let us, now peer into the future.

Many of the Seniors undoubtedly will be happily, unhappily, or indifferently married. Perhaps by the time the present Freshmen are sufficiently elevated to graduation, Senior mamas will be washing Junior's ears and Senior papas will be leading them to school.

Well—worse things, possibly, might happen.

A JUNIOR'S QUERY

High School Days, ere you go,
I should like to learn and know,
Why the world's ignoble strife?
Why this racing through all life?

Could we not roam in content
Not on brassy pleasures bent,
Till at last we find our rest,
Having striven at our best?

We have far onward now advanced
Eleven short years of song and dance,
Excelling, defeated, laughing, crying.
And is all life of just such buying?

And why can we not forward go
Through all of our life's joy and woe
—Just as we've gone in happy days
Through Freshman, Sophomore, Junior rule?

Dora Alice Dean '29.

CLASS HISTORY

About two and three-quarters years ago we entered Garrett High School determined to distinguish ourselves by our accomplishments. Some of our classmates have given up and left us, but we who are still here are even more determined to complete our purpose. We have able leadership and we are able followers and helpers. The obstacles encountered in the first two years of high school have been overcome and we are now well on our way to victory for the third year. Our class, this year, has the responsibility of editing the school paper, the Maroon and Blue, and of putting on the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. These responsibilities will be well taken care of and we think that we shall have well accomplished our duties for this year by the latter part of May.

MEDITATIONS ON "THE PAST"

As we look back into the old,
It seems so desolate and cold.
But still there are sweet fragrances,
Which come to us as remembrances
In our Sophomore year.

The work we did with many a growl,
Would now be done without a scowl.
For the time we spent in useless hours,
We now would use with all our powers
In our Sophomore year.

There were some things we shouldn't have done,
But at that time seemed lost of fun.
But now in meditation we look behind
And see the things we did without good mind,
In our Sophomore year.

There were many a party we could have missed,
But now they are gone and leave us bliss.
They gave us many a happy time,
And now and then stop many a pine,
In our Sophomore year.

But just the same its not so bad
That long gone past that we have had.
But now we are older and full of cheer
And ready to help without any fear,
In our Sophomore year.

William Farrington '30.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

How many find it easy to start on the first step of the ladder but how few succeed? Thus it was with the class of '30. There were ninety-six who stepped on the first round, some of whom soon withdrew from the climb to the goal, "Graduation." Perhaps bashfulness prevailed at first, but that soon wore off. After we were situated and had everything arranged to suit ourselves and our teachers, we felt ready to ascend further on the ladder. It was, indeed, a happy day when the upper-class-men considered us as a group of climbers in Garrett High School. Our next ascension came at the end of the year, when we realized we had had success in almost every way.

The sophomore year was not entered with the same timid spirit as was the freshmen, although we came back with only seventy-five members. We were eager to organize. The officers chosen were: Jerome McCully, president; Jack Miller, vice president; Virginia Hart, secretary; Gretchen Hamilton, treasurer. Many of our classmates have helped our class to gain a higher foothold by attaining high ranks of honor both in literary and musical contests; some also made the first teams in basketball and in football.

We know this year will be a success and the light that is left from our sophomore year will guide us through the coming years. It is our aim to reach the top of the ladder which will bring "Graduation and Success."

CLASS OF '31

With joyous hearts and great acclaim,
We started on the road to fame.
An up-hill road at times, I fear,
Yet we've been on it for 'most a year.

The road we travel seems rough and steep
Ninety-two of us started the trail to keep.
Our guides are teachers, kind and true,
Who know the way; they traveled it, too.

We've been loyal to Maroon and Blue,
Our paper, football, and basketball too,
The Hi-Y and Glee Clubs, the track teams, "I'll say,"
The coaches so faithful, who help us to play.

Our teachers get vexed; still they are dear,
And the principal is patient, yet I fear
He thinks, our goal we'll never reach,
For he finds, that some are hard to teach.

Our superintendent is all he should be
Severe at first, but now we see,
That ninety-two freshmen need a strict rule,
In order to go through four years of school.

In fact, dear old high school, Hurrah!
We love every brick and we know there's no flaw
In the way we are guided along our rough path
Of learning, in English and Latin and Math.

At last, here we are at the end of May;
We've only traveled one-fourth of the way;
We'll bid you adieu, with a glad refrain
'Till next fall, when we hope to meet you again.

Mildred Dammann '31.

FRESHIES OF '27

Tuesday morning! September 6! See the young people gathering in the high school building. Among the old standbys were ninety-two "freshies," as we were called by the upper classmen. We nearly filled the building wandering around looking for something, we knew not what. After the confusion of getting settled down to work the "sophies" welcomed us at a hard-time party at the old gymnasium.

During this year we have held our own in athletics as several boys made first squad in football. We also held first place in members on the second team. We were very well represented in both boy's and girl's basketball. Several members of our class were also interested in music; while others joined the different activities that were opened to us.

We now feel, that we are a very important part of Garrett High School and hope we may leave a record of clean sportsmanship and scholarship behind us, when we leave in 1931.

MAROON & BLUE

The Maroon and Blue together with the Aeolian is a mirror in which is reflected our high school world and its habitation. Soon after the first six weeks of school each class chose by popular vote the three individuals whom they thought were best fitted for leadership and journalistic work. Thais Hamilton, John Gordon, and Ruth Zimmerman, veterans of the 1926 staff, were elected to assume the responsibility of Editor-in-chief, Business Manager, and Associate Editor respectively.

Aside from the edition of a splendid bi-monthly paper, the staff accumulated some money by selling boxes of Christmas cards and sponsoring a benefit show.

The success of this journalistic year is due to the co-operation of the staff, the capability of the editor, Thais Hamilton, and the unexcelled interest of Miss Thrush, the sponsor.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club was first organized in the year 1913 and since that time it has taken an active part in all the outstanding activities of our school. This year, as has been the custom for a number of years, the girls furnished several delightful numbers for the annual commencement exercises.

The club enrollment numbered close to fifty which shows in itself that much interest was shown and much was accomplished. Miss Zeigler, due to her capability and earnest efforts, has proven that the musical organizations are becoming more indispensible each year.

Twenty-four girls were chosen for the chorus, and four for a double mixed quartette from this organization.

STANDING: Kenneth Lung, George Childers, John Young, Miss Zeigler, Dorothy Etta Kingsbury, Richard Dolan, Timothy Ratcliffe, Harold Beber, Darl Marker.

ORCHESTRA

"Music, once admitted to the soul, becomes a sort of spirit, and never dies." Surely, music has been admitted into the soul of G. H. S. because we can no longer be without it. The orchestra of 1927-28 has done much to bring about a more realistic appreciation of good music.

Although this organization did not make a public appearance before the assembly this year, yet we were privileged to hear the group practice.

The orchestra gave a brighter hue to the senior class play, "Captain Applejack," the operetta, and the commencement exercises.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club was organized this year under the capable leadership of Miss Zeigler, the music director. A number of boys sought entrance to the club, among whom were familiar voices of previous years. It was very pleasing to find that so many Freshman boys were interested, and if this interest is continued it will be a great benefit to the club. Several members gained places in the quartettes and choruses.

The following eight boys were selected by Miss Zeigler for a double quartette: Russell Alford, Harry Cramer, Timothy Ratcliffe, Harold Beber, as tenors, and Howard Nicholson, Roy Stahl, Judson Witherspoon, and John Gordon as basses. Although this quartette lost in the local elimination contest it is planning to make its appearance in the Commencement program. John Gordon, Judson Witherspoon, Timothy Ratcliffe, and Harry Cramer were chosen for the double mixed quartette. The boys enjoyed meeting and singing and we all admit it is a very worthy recreation, so let us boost our Boys' Glee Club.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club was organized the first of the semester and with the aid of Miss Harvey, the advisor, it was progressed rapidly.

The chief purposes of the club are to promote interest in the business world, and to encourage a social spirit among commercial students by offering opportunities for social contact. It is the aim of every member to become conversant with modern, progressive business methods and systems, endeavoring by such means to raise and maintain a higher standard of efficiency.

Interesting programs were planned and presented by various members of the club, which helped to carry out the aim and purposes to a greater extent. We enjoyed the year's work, and we hope that the club will long exist and be an aid to future commercial students.

The officers were:

GIRL RESERVE CLUB

The Garrett Girl Reserve Club of 1927-28 has shown much enthusiasm. The membership is practically the same as that of last year. The success of the club has been due largely to the loyalty of the girls, the efficiency of the officers, and the splendid direction of the advisors. The girls enjoyed several memorable events during the year; first, a "weiner roast" was given at Eleanor Brown's as a reception for all high school girls desiring to join the club. December the eighteenth the girls gave a Christmas program at the Methodist Church which was a decided success. Several sandwich sales were held as welcomed financial aids. Another important occasion was the "Tea Party" which was held in the school corridors, following the installation services. The Kendallville-Angola-Garrett Conference was held March the seventeenth through which many new acquaintances were made and new ideas formed. Last, but not least, came the annual Mother-Daughter banquet which concluded the year's program. The advisors are: Miss Evard, Miss McKinley, Miss Thrush, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Hamilton. The officers are:

Eleanor Brown	President
Ruth Zimmerman	Vice President
Mary Clark	Secretary
Mary Detrick	Treasurer
Mary Mies	Social Chairman
Ruth Haver	Service Chairman
Thais Hamilton	Program Chairman

TOP ROW: Walter Lung, Carl Houser, Verne Brinkman, Nolan Lewis, Mr. Morris, Fred Bergstedt, Roy Stahl, Jerome McCully, Emory Heitz.

THE HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club under the excellent leadership of Mr. Morris has enjoyed a successful and interesting year. Ten members including Mr. Morris attended the State Older Boys' Conference, November twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth, at Lafayette. Much inspiration and many fine ideas together with acquaintances made the boys' attendance very profitable.

The Annual Hi-Y Follies was presented with much the same effect as in former years—a big crowd and a sufficient amount of profits were the chief benefits of this year's play "Who Stole the Mince Pie."

The club has during this past year pushed onward more than ever before in its program of wholesome fellowship and religious education.

The 1927-28 officers were:

James McDermott	President
Robert Hughes	Vice President
John Elam	Treasurer
Bernard Brennan	Secretary

DEMOSTHIAN CLUB

The Demosthian Club organized a few weeks after the beginning of the school year 1927-28, under the efficient supervision of Miss Davis. The aim and purpose of the club is to teach its members self-expression and to give them instruction in dramatic art. The constitution of the organization, which has an article saying that a member who refuses to perform when called upon is subject to "severe" punishment, was an important factor in accomplishing many unusual things. At the opening of the new gymnasium the club presented a play, "The Ghost Story," which was a decided success. The parties and good times enjoyed by the club will long be a source of pleasant remembrances.

The officers for the year were:

Russel Alford	President
Bernard Brennan	Vice President
Flora Duerk	Secretary
Thais Hamilton	Treasurer

THE MINUET

"Grandma told me all about it — How they danced, my grandma danced, Told me so I could not doubt it, — Long Ago!"

"The Minuet" was given at the opening night of our new gymnasium, by Florence Little, Catherine McCully, Hazel Harvey, Ruth Thomas, Jeanette Foley, Kathryn Bass, Thais and Gretchen Hamilton.

THE GHOST STORY

The outstanding work of the Demosthian Club this year was its production of Tarkington's "Ghost Story" at the initial performance in our School Gym.

Scene: Laid in Anne's home during the Christmas vacation.

Situation: George loves Anne, but, as is often the case, finds much difficulty in telling her so. Upon this occasion he resolves to "do or die" and rids himself of "that gang" by telling the ghost story with such force that he frightens himself, the crowd, and Anne into hysteria. But in the end she tops his proposal off with a "Yes, George."

LITERARY

THE GARDEN OF FRIENDSHIP

Through a beautiful garden the children went,
Looking at pretty flowers, on a clear day.
The Roses of Shanon, their bushes bent,
"Don't pass me by," they seemed to say.

A miniture pond nearby lay,
Covered with waterlilies, both yellow and white,
Among them the swans would swim and play,
Making a beautiful and pleasant sight.

We all can enter this garden,
It is friendship so sweet and rare,
Our lives can blossom as fully
And be just as sweet and fair.

Maxine Owens '30.

SPRINGTIME

'Tis springtime, 'Tis springtime,
Cold winter now is past.
Warm breezes are now blowing,
And May is here at last.

The birds are all returning,
With songs they fill the air.
The meadows too are smiling,
With blossoms bright and fair.

The orchards and the woodlands,
With colors are made gay.
While the old earth rejoices
Through many a joyous day.

Madoline Gael '31.

TO NATURE

I love to hear the wild bird sing
  Far up in the sky at break of day;
Or the woodthrush's sweet notes ring
  From under a bush near my way.

I love to look at the bubbling brook
  As it gushes o'er the clean white sand;
Or, in and out each little curve or crook,
  As it kisses the silvery strand.

I love to pluck the modest flowers,
  The products of the merry spring;
They are the children of the sun and showers,
  And of them I love to sing.

I love all of nature's wondrous sights
  In summer, winter, spring, or fall;
In each phase of nature, God writes
  That He intends them for us all.

Iolene Friend '29.

GOOD-BY WINTER

Winter will soon come to a close,
  And then there will be no more snows.
Until three more seasons have passed away,
  Good-by, Winter! Good-by I say.

Soon will come the season of Spring,
  In which the happy birds will sing.
The season when youth is happy and gay,
  Good-by, Winter! Good-by I say.

April with its many showers,
  May with its bright wild flowers.
June, the last month, when lovers meet each day,
  Good-by, Winter! Good-by I say.

Soon the last snow-man will be made,
  And then the Spring will make a raid.
Winter will fight but have to go away,
  Good-by, Winter! Good-by I say.

Fred Bergstedt '30.

STEPS

Hear the pattering little steps,
Baby steps!
What a melody of love their sound begets!
How they patter, patter, patter,
Into each and every room,
Seeming all the while to scatter
Little sunbeams with their laughter,
To drive away all gloom!
Always with some new desire
Seemingly to never tire.
Oh the steps, steps, steps, steps,
Steps, steps, steps—
Oh, the patter of these countless little steps.

Hear the dancing, prancing steps,
Youthful steps!
What a world of hopefulness their sound begets!
Toes that twinkle, turn, and skip
Through the night until the dawn;
How they slide and turn and skip
If the orchestra's a hit;
Dancing on and on and on,
Oh, 'tis youth that has the pep
In its step, step, step,
Oh, the jazzy, peppy, joyful, youthful steps!

Hear the slow and halting steps,
Aged steps!
What a final tale of life this sound begets!
Life is lived—no more desire,
But for the final step up higher.
Habit makes the old feet go
Steps laborious and so slow
Which simply wait!
All the world seems cold and dark.
Life is such a little spark
In these steps, steps, steps, steps,
Steps, steps, steps—
In these waiting, trembling, shaky, aged steps.

THE GOOD

"What is real good?"
I asked in musing mood.
"Knowledge," answered the school;
"Pleasure," agreed the fool;
"Love," sobbed the woeful maid,
and "Fame," declared the sage;
"Truth," answered the honest man;
"Justice," was the judge's plan;
"Love of God" and "Kindness" pays
Through the years, the months, the days.

But—
"What is real good?"
I asked in musing mood.

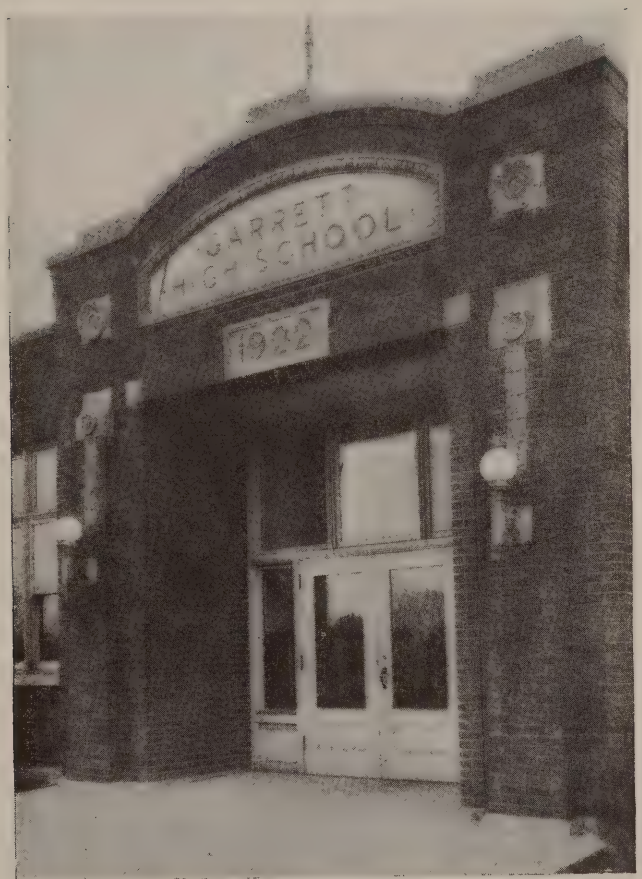
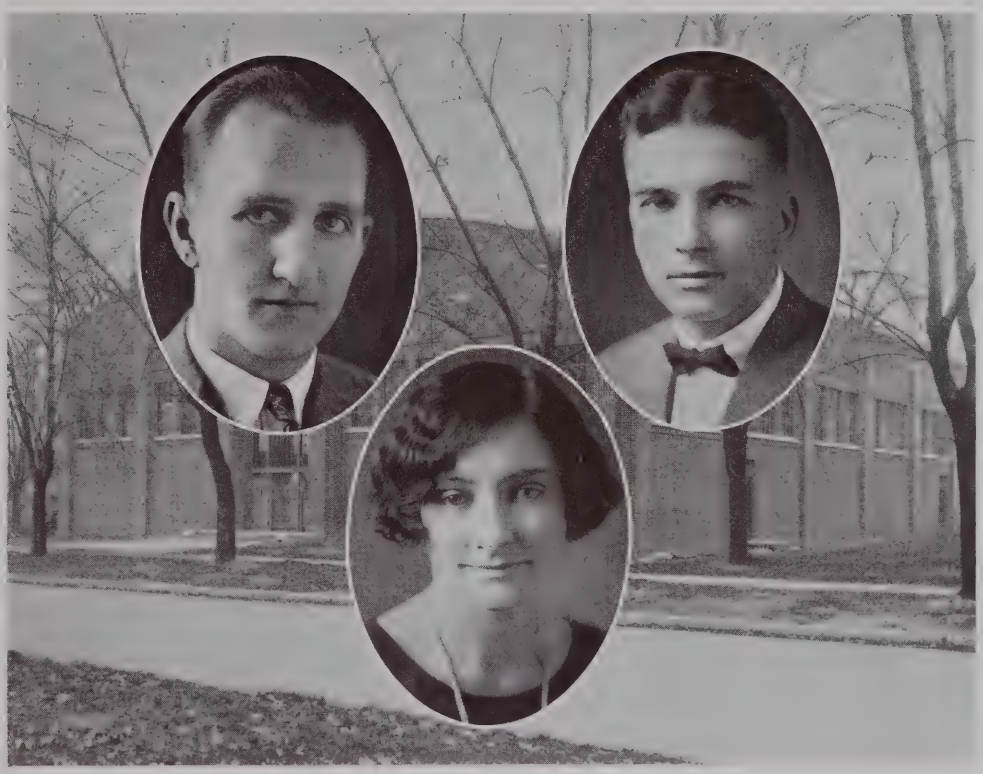
Athletics
Book IV





COACHES

The expansion program in Garrett High School Athletics reached its peak during the past year. A splendid new gymnasium, a fine football field, and excellent tennis courts have been completed. The new track will be finished this spring, giving G. H. S. the best place to hold track and field meets in North Eastern Indiana. All of this means a great deal to our students as well as to those in charge of the Physical Training program. These activities by which the local adolescent may attain the virtues of honesty, self-control, loyal co-operation, and self-sacrifice by athletic and gymnastic participation are splendid monuments to the progressive spirit and the fore-thought of the people of the Garrett community. G. Stanley Hall said, "The boy without a playground is father to the man without a job." In no city or town has this statement been more evident than in Garrett. The voice of youth has been heard and heeded.

A. A. W.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Another successful season is over! The big games are now history, and henceforth when referring to them we will be forced to call the team of '28 one of the best ever to represent Garrett. Due to the players diligent practice and determination to win they have lost only one game this year, and that by only a few points. With the close of the 1928 season we lose six seniors: Jeanette Foley, Lois Withrow, Hazel Harvey, Mildred Alley, Kathryn Owens, and Barbara Dirr. Mildred Alley has been captain for the last two years. The prospects for next year are very encouraging when we consider the splendid material which we have for another winning team.

Coach Rippey.

An upright, manly character is the highest possession a boy may attain; one form of endeavor which strives to give him that possession is athletics. In a great measure, the aim of athletics is to foster and encourage a true spirit of sportsmanship, loyalty, perseverance, patience, and courtesy. These are some of the elements that go to make up character and not infrequently the greater exercise of these elements are found to be inculcated in a team that is sometimes said to be a losing team.

May the teams of Garrett ever be judged by the elements of character that outlast the memory of passing accomplishment.

P. A. Wilkinson.

FOOTBALL

The G. H. S. football team of 1927 cannot be classed as a world beater so far as victories are concerned, for they were few and a long time coming. Prospects for a good team were dull from the beginning for only seven men of any football experience reported (the first week of school) to the call of Coach Wills. Ineligibility and injuries crippled the squad early in the season and it was not until the team suffered seven straight losses to Central, Decatur, Kendallville, Columbia City, Howe Military Academy, LaPorte, and Concordia College that any football strength was exhibited. However, the Decatur, Kendallville, and LaPorte games were close, 8-0, 12-0, and 13-0 respectively and with just a little more push these games could have been on the right side. Coaches Wills and Wilkinson finally hit upon a winning combination which included from four to six Freshmen and the last two games resulted in victories for our warriors. The old G. H. S. pep and spirit returned to the squad for the Warsaw game and the confident Kosciusko County team received one of its few setbacks of the last three years. Nash, Traster, and Farrington played smashing football to allow our ball toters to advance. Warsaw matched Garrett's first half touchdown early in the third quarter but a long pass, Metcalf to Nash followed by a 35 yard run gave us our victory margin. Score, Garrett 12-Warsaw 7. The following week the North Side team gave our boys a great battle but were defeated 18-12. Capt. Metcalf and Karr teamed together for the last time and tossed passes and skirted the ends in great form. Three long runs by Karr resulted in the Garrett scores. Smith played good football for a beginner.

Cramer Holmes Nash Nicholson
Traster Hurd Farrington

BOYS' BASKETBALL

With Captain Karr, Yarde, Gordon, Hofferman, and Metcalf as a neculus for the building of a team for the 1927-28 season, Coach Wills had a fair start, but due to sickness, breaking training rules, and ineligibility, not one of these fellows was on the team after the first semester.

The squad of fifteen men carried by the coaches during the last semester consisted of two Seniors, one Junior, six Sophomores, and six Freshmen. The regular players were Traster, Byanski, Einkopf, Herzer, Feagler, Smith, Nicholson, Hurd, and Pickering.

With no tournament experiences, these fellows almost pulled through the greatest surprise of the season when they came within two points of eliminating the Champion Auburn Team in the Sectional Tourney. The score was 17-15 with Auburn fast fading as the game ended. It was a fitting ending (if we could not win) to an unsuccessful season, and with practically the entire squad back for two more years G. H. S. can rightfully look upon the launching of a great team. No finer Gym can be found in this part of the State and with a wealth of material and plenty of pep the opponents of G. H. S. will have to step some for at least the next two years.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

For three years the girls who have been on the team have worked together; they have shown every ounce of real sportmanship. Never did they shrink from the thought of victory when defeat was facing them. During the last two years they have lost but one game. Many games were played with the fastest teams in this part of the state. The games in which we were victors could not have been won had it not been for the co-operative work between team and coach. Hours of hard practice and training are the two things which made us what we are today. Wherever we played we were thought of as courteous, clean, and honest sportsmen. That, I believe I can say is the reason why the Garrett Girls' Basketball Team has so many victories marked up for it.

As Captain of the team I wish to say to the captain and members of next year's squad that we wish them all the luck that can be had. Remember that, "When the one great scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won but how you played the game."

Mildred Alley '28.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

The Junior High Basketball Team lived up to its record of past years in a splendid way during 1927-28. At the close of the basketball season it had completed a schedule of twenty-seven games, eighteen of which were marked up to its favor; one game was a tie and eight games were lost.

The second team played seven games; three of these were won, three lost, and one tied. Most of the squad were seventh grade pupils and will be excellent material for next year's team.

The Junior High also prided itself with a Girl's Basketball Team during the past year. These girls will make excellent players for the high school in the near future.

BASEBALL

The famous G. H. S. baseball team of last year is no more. As yet no arrangements have been made to organize a team, but rumbles from a few Walter Johnsons and Babe Ruths have been heard in the halls and possibly the Great American Sport will not die out in our high school. The baseball team of last year did not escape the fate of our other sports and it suffered severely from the "four year residence rule." Eight of last year's first twelve men have been lost—seven by graduation and one by promotion. Arthur Steinmetz, our "fence buster," has been working out with the Danville, (Ill.) Three-Eye League Club this spring. We wish "Red" a lot of luck and hope he is successful in his first attempt to break into professional ball. Finley Nash, "Ben" Traster, "Dutch" Hofferman, and "Bill" Byanski are sponsors of the attempts to loosen-up the empty pocketbook of the Athletic Department enough to buy equipment for this year's team if we have one. Coach Wills has had baseball experience as a player and as a coach and he hopes that some way will be found whereby a team can be financed.

TRACK

Over a hundred boys turned out to hear the preliminary talks by Coaches Wills and Wilkinson and Principal Willennar concerning the building of a track team for this year. With arrangements made, whereby the country boys who do not have the opportunity to practice under the supervision of the coaches can get their work-outs, a greater number of boys will have a chance to represent G. H. S. on the cinders—thereby increasing the strength of our team. Last year's championship relay team has been completely broken-up for only two of the six remain—Karr and Gordon. Eleven men from the squad were graduated leaving the coaches with no experienced hurdlers, pole vaulters, broad jumpers, or middle distance runners. Among the men who show up best are Karr, Gordon, Hinklin, Hopkins, Hurd, Pickering, and several untried freshmen. However, much is expected from the new members who have been working faithfully. A series of class meets have been arranged to serve as try-out for the team. A loving cup is to be given the winning class and ribbons to the individual winners of the events.

A TRIBUTE TO THE JUNIORS

A Freshman's rather green, you know,
And acts so dazed and queer.
A Sophie thinks he knows so much
He shouldn't study for a year
A Senior is so dignified because
A graduate soon he'll be.
So when it comes to choosing
A jolly Junior just suits me.

Isabell McDaniel '29.

Art H: Here it says that a man died on his wedding day.

Mr. Rose: Some people have all the luck.

Mr. Hamilton (angrily): I'll teach you to make love to my daughter.

Si Hurley: I wish you would I'm not making much headway.

E. Heitz: I understand Budd's wife is going to Paris for her clothes.

Everett C.: I wondered where she had left them.

Mother: Who ever taught you to swear?

Johnny: Santa Claus, mama. 'Twas when he fell over a chair in my bedroom.

Miss Davis: What books do you read Arthur?

Art S.: Oh some high class novels.

Miss D.: How do you like the endings?

Art: The last one I read had a sad ending. It was marked down from $2 to twenty-eight cents.

Pud L.: My sister and I know everything in the world.

Evelyn D.: Where is Cape Cod?

Pud: Well—that is one of the questions my sister knows.

Mrs. Burtch: Raymond, you should never do things that you would be ashamed to do with the world watching you.

Raymond: Horray, I won't have to take any more baths.

McCully's Bakery

Adelaide Co.: Are catepillars and capillaries the same things?

Mr. Black: Wilbur, is there anything you can't do?

Wilbur E.: I hardly believe there is.

Mr. B.: Then go to the furnace room and wheel out a barrow of smoke.

Wilbur: You go down and fill the barrow and I'll wheel it out.

Chich H.: The Justice of the Peace didn't make much last year, did he?

Bill Duerk: No but he will this year.

Chich: How's that?

Bill D.: Why, man do you forget that this leap year?

John Elam: I don't cheat like you do.

Dick W.: No, you cheat worse.

Compliments of

Haynes's Dairy

Bill Duerk: "Flora, where are the funny papers?"

Flora: "Silly, this is only Wednesday. I told you not to take a bath last night."

Winford Nessel: Is it true that statistics prove women live longer than men?

Walter Lung: Well, you know that paint is a good perservative.

Mr. Wills: Our track men are so short winded that they can't blow their own noses.

Mr. Bormuth: What steps would you take if you saw a lion come into this room?

Variety Store

Eighteen years of successful merchandising proves that our method of handling only first quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices, operating our independent store on the SYNDICATE PLAN, concentrating our efforts to this immediate community, and our money back guarantee, have met with approval of our patrons.

Therefore we have not only decided to continue our very extensive line of popular priced merchandise, but to constantly add many household necessities and offer to the people the very best possible in the way of values and service.

It is on this basis that we solicit a continuance of your patronage.

Nothing that you can give those who are near and dear will please them more than YOUR photograph — and with each passing year these treasured records become more precious.

J. B. GARNS CANDY COMPANY

Growing Together

This institution especially invites the accounts of young people and invites them with the express understanding that it will consider it a privilege to make banking an easy and a pleasant task. Every facility of this bank is at their disposal.

Convenient bank books and check books, the kind that fit snuggly into pockets and shopping bags, are provided. Questions are invited. There is not an officer or an employe in the bank who is not eager to answer and to serve.

Our officers are especially willing to advise and assist in business affairs. Their experience, their judgment, their knowledge of business forms and business conditions are all at the special service of the depositors.

Every one reading this advertisement is cordially invited to become a customer of this banking institution, whether the bank account will be small or large.

BURDENS

I am a little scholar
And old before my time,
Because of dreadful slashing
To all my prose and rhyme.

"I ain'ts," I are's," "I seen it's"
They haunt me in my sleep,
And just to mention spelling
Can almost make me weep.

I am a little scholar
And almost driven wild
A writing compositions,
On subjects not so mild.

THE KNOWLEDGE FACTORY

Each day to knowledge factory I roam,
To make my brains feel at home
With studies, teachers, and the like,
Then, out into the world I hike.

In English we have a teacher neat
Who is always gentle and always sweet,
The cross words are very few
Hello! Miss Thrush, that's you!

Now class let's get down to work
Because History lessons we cannot shirk.
This teacher is Miss Davis, so dear.
Oh! will it be Miss or Mrs. next year?

Make no errors and get some speed
Because typing means business, indeed,
Said Miss Harvey, with a big diamond ring.
Well, business is business in anything.

Physiology and Home Nursing are my studies, too.
Look up big words we always must do,
Or get marked down in the blue book
By Miss McKinley, knowledge factory's best cook.
